I am presently a senior at the University of Maine in the school of Home Economics. I plan to graduate with a B.S. in June and next fall hope to teach somewhere in the state.

Although I had no control over where I would be placed for my student teaching experience, I am certainly pleased it was Lee Academy. Students and teachers alike have made my stay here pleasureable and profitable as a learning experience. You have won a "fan" for Lee Academy!

Miss Susan Fides
Student Teacher

Who me!

I thought I saw a putty cat!

Us smokers would rather fight than switch!

Why didn't you ask for your book report form while I had the cabinet opened!

Hi out there in TV land!

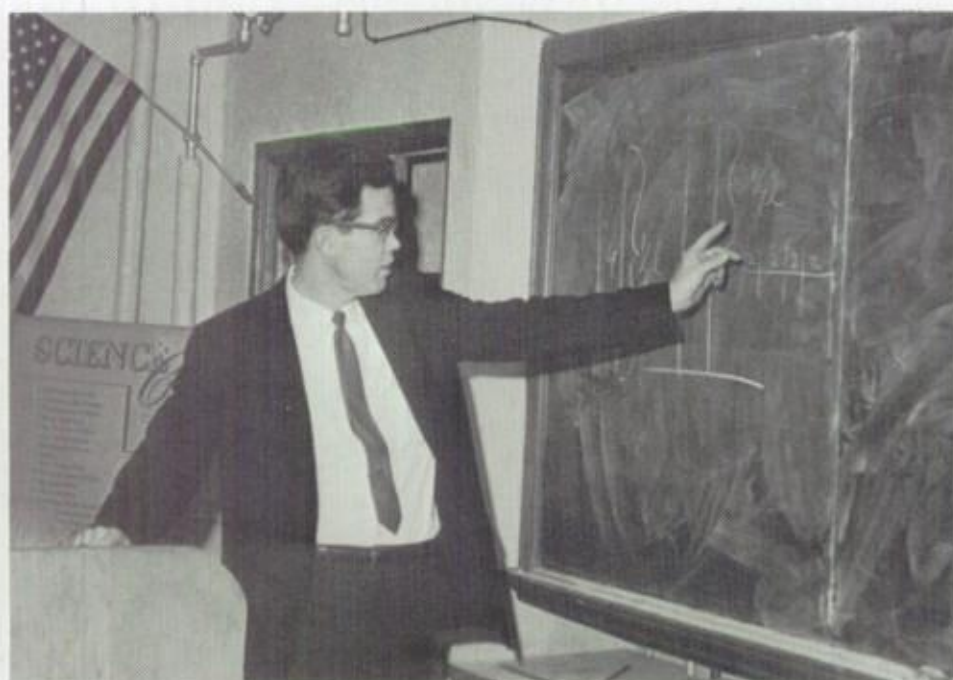

Who's ugly?

Come on, is that really necessary?

Whisper sweet nothings
in my ear!

Now, let's get back to the subject!

As the Fred R. Dingley Building was just completed during the spring of 1966, our senior class was the first to be able to perform their senior play in the new auditorum. This, in itself, was an experience to remember.

"Antigone" was the chosen play. The play was a modern version of the ancient Greek tragedy. Mr. Leland Kimball, the director, put in many long hours constructing scenery and making all the necessary preparations for the performance. Rehearsals were sometimes fatiguing and hectic for everyone involved until we all knew just what was expected of us. Trustworthy prompters and stage managers were a tremendous help.

When performance night came, Mr. Kimball was busy doing make-up work on the various players. Then that breath-taking moment of curtain time was at hand and all were tense. The play began. The audience seemed pleased. The many weeks of direction and hard work paid off! The play was a success!

CLASS OFFICERS

The number of students in our class has decreased from our Freshman year enrollment of seventy-five to the present enrollment of sixty-five. Although we have lost some members in past years, we have gained several new members this year.

This year, and in the past years, many of the members of our class have represented the class well in activities, sports, and honors.

We would like to express our appreciation to the faculty of Lee Academy for their help and guidance during these past four years, and especially to our class advisors and Mrs. Nute, our yearbook advisor.

THE SENIOR PLAY

by
David Currier

One of the biggest events of a student's senior year is the senior play. This production is made possible through the hard work of all those involved.

After play tryouts, the announcement of parts is made and everyone begins to squabble about not getting the right part.

The first night of rehearsal rolls around. One by one the cocky seniors come on stage to read their lines. One by one they walk off, depressed to the core, as the play director censures each for his mistakes. Rehearsals begin to run night after night and become more and more boring. The director begins to bellow and roar because actors come in later and later each night. He tears his hair because they aren't learning their lines.

Matters become worse the night the books are taken away. The stammering of actors becomes worse. Actors run everywhere trying to find positions for speeches. The director begins holding his breath till he is red in the face. He turns his back on awkward gestures and mixed-up speeches. Nothing goes right, until one night, suddenly he stares at the stage. His weary red-rimmed eyes begin to see. His crimson cheeks return to normal color. His scowling features light up and he finally smiles. He has done it. These know-it-all seniors have at last submitted to his commands. His production will be a masterpiece and a memory of accomplishment and pleasure for seniors to take with them.

BROTHERHOOD

by
Brent Jacobs

I can always tell when my two-year-old brother isn't around, suddenly everything is quiet. But when he is around watch out--attack from behind with a hammer is one of his favorite tricks. If lucky I'm only hit by something soft, like a toy steel truck or a few cement blocks.

He works like an alarm clock. At five o'clock he comes upstairs and hits me. Then I get up and fix his breakfast or he'll wake up the whole family. While I'm fixing breakfast, I keep in mind that if he isn't pleased he will let me know.

After breakfast he does ordinary stunts, like pounding nails into furniture or dumping coffee into his toy chest. Sometimes he gets really neat minded and washes the cat.

After just a morning like that you would think he would be worn out--but no! At night usually it takes three of us to put him to bed and make him stay. The only really bad thing he ever does is get up in the morning.

THE SPIRIT OF AMERICA

by
Bonnie Twitchell

I stand for you but I am only what you make me. I am only as good as my people. When I stop being--so will America. I deserve respect from you for I am the symbol of what you as Americans have fought and died for. I have been tattered, torn, burned and spit upon; yet I am still flying.

Because you are proud to see me soaring above, I, too, am proud. I admire the spirit of the country that I represent. I'm happy to wave in "the land of the free and the home of the brave."

ANOTHER USELESS THOUGHT

by
Elaine Faulkner

I know somewhere there's a heaven
Decorated all in gold
Trimmed in silver laden curtains
Such a sight which to behold
How I wish that I could see it
And to touch it with my hand
Feeling like a royal princess
Oh so beautiful and grand

But my thoughts are only wishes
Which will not come true for me
Maybe if I would have listened
Maybe still I would be free
For my life now is a shadow
I have learned my lesson well
It's my home for now and ever
In this empty, lonely cell.

THE MOUNTAIN

by
Prudence Perkins

The mountain overshadows the town
It blocks the sun from kissing me good-night,
And the stars from visiting me.
A brook that once ran down that barren rock pile
Has now all but fallen away.
I hate its remains.
It has deserted me,
Left me without a song.
Fields run half way up the mountain,
Then fall back like spent runners.
Grotesque black trees beaten and twisted
cling to a stilted life.
Nothing ever grows taller;
not tree nor anything,
except--the mountain.

*Gary,
To a great guy
that I've enjoyed knowing from first grade to this year. Good luck in all you attempt.

THAT HORRIBLE MISTAKE

by
Marilyn Burton

Dianne sat at the desk typing letters for her boss. At the end of the third letter, she paused and sighed. She was thinking how often he got angry because she did something wrong. Today she was determined to do everything right.

She rolled another sheet of paper into her typewriter and her fingers flew over the keys. She didn't notice what she was typing; she never paid much attention to the correspondence.

Since it was nearly time to go, she folded the letters, addressed the envelopes and sealed them. Just as the clock struck five, she slipped out the door and went to the postoffice.

Two days later Mr. B. C. Goule received the following letter:

My dear little kitten, my heart simply pines to see you. We have so much to discuss, that I think you ought to meet me at our favorite spot so we can talk. If you have nothing else planned, please meet me at seven o'clock, Thursday evening.

Yours affectionately,

At the same time, Mr. King's fiancée received the following letter:

Of all the lame-brained, knuckled-headed excuses of the business, yours is certainly the worst yet. I want no more to do with you. You can forget that we were ever on friendly terms. From now on, I'll do my trading elsewhere.

Mr. D. K. King

When Mr. King went to his favorite restaurant, he found Mr. Goule waiting for him. Since he had no knowledge of the letters, he was quite unprepared for this. Another thing he wasn't prepared for was the fact that his fiancée was there with Mr. Goule. When he asked for an explanation each one showed him the letters. Mr. Goule laughed and said he was sure that big business was getting to him, and Mr. King's fiancée simply slapped his face and walked out.

Back at the office on Friday morning, Mr. King came in with two black eyes, a broken arm and a torn heart. When Dianne asked him what happened all he said was "You're fired!!!"

WORK OF LEAVES

by
Belinda Boyce

Red leaves are rustling on the walk,
They talk of seasons past
Of leafy trees and bobolinks
And of valleys deep and vast.

If they could but mention everything
That has happened forever and gone,
Their work would be continuous,
From evening until dawn.

One of our first meetings was devoted to the initiation of new members and the planning of our program for the year.

The State Project which we chose to work on was "Good Family Relationships." Dr. Philip Rice, Family Life Specialist from the University of Maine came up to speak at an assembly on dating behavior.

During the winter our meetings included a Christmas Party with FFA and square dancing. In February we entertained the faculty and members at a Valentine Tea. In the spring we had a hobby show. We also had a fashion show for the Maine Federation of Women's Club in Lee. The last meeting was for the election and installation of new officers. We also sponsored the UNICEF campaign in this area.

Varsity Basketball

Our 66-67 varsity season started off slowly with a loss to, now Class S champions, Sherman. The team made a quick comeback, however, with a romp over Machias (70-57). This was followed by a major win over Ashland. The varsity won 4 out of its last 5 games, including a 71-48 romp over second rated Patten. We finished with a 9-7 record.

Supplying much of this year's strength was the Lee Academy's class of 1967. There were five seniors on the squad with three of them on the starting five. Much of our rebounding strength was supplied by the seniors with starters Bill Merrill (6'3") and Dale Wheaton (6'0"), aided by latecomer Glenn Bustard, pounding the boards.

The two seniors out front were David Emery and Virgil Jellison. Dave with his extremely deadly shots and excellent ball handling led the team to several tight victories. Even though Virg is the shortest man on the team he shoots well and handles the ball well.

The only Junior class representative on the squad was Butch Marble. Missing most of the season with a back injury, Butch is the player to watch for next year.

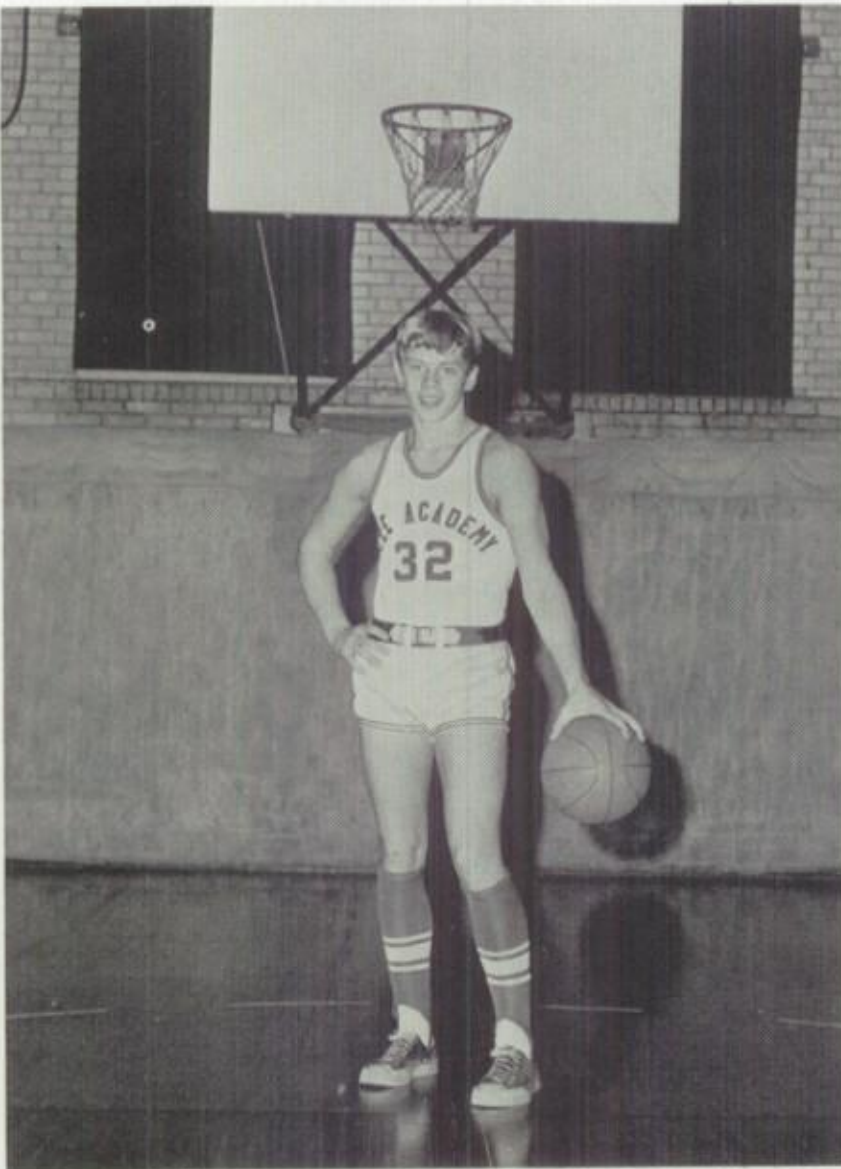

Much of the Panda's backbone was supplied by the Sophomore class with Steve Mark (6'4") and Dan Bettman (6'5") on the boards helped by letterman Arnie House out front with Wally Alexander and Hal Albert.

The remainder of the squad was made up by Freshman, Phillip Ham.

J.V. Basketball

FIRST ROW: D. Ballard (Manager), L. Palmer, M. Munson, P. Crocker, D. Fickering. SECOND ROW: Mr. MacDonald (Coach), D. Thurlow, R. Burleigh, R. Alley, B. Treadwell, E. Emery, D. Smith, G. Moores.

The J.V. team this year started off slowly, but as the season progressed they picked up momentum. The team became a very strong scoring team. In the last two games with Oakfield and Schenck, which we won, we scored 31 points in the last quarter with Oakfield and 33 points in the last quarter with Schenck. At the end of the season, we had an 11-11 record.

The fast dribbling of Larry Palmer out front, with the late arrival of Mike Patterson, helped strengthen the team this year. The rebounding and scoring of 6'5" Dan Bettman helped to lead the team to several victories. We will be watching for each of these fine prospective Varsity players to return to the courts next season.

KNEELING: V. McCafferty (Co-Captain), B. Knights (Co-Captain). STANDING: D. Thurlow, B. Fitzgerald, D. Dill, D. Hamilton, P. Curtis.

We added four new members to our squad this year--Debbie Dill, Dolores Thurlow, Pamela Curtis and Brenda Fitzgerald. Our two co-captains this year are Vicky McCafferty and Bonita Knights.

We were very glad to get our new gray and blue uniforms this year.

We have an instructor, Mrs. Betty Gregoire of Dover-Foxcroft, who comes every Thursday and helps us in our routines.

As during past years, we perform at home basketball games. We would like to thank Mr. Boyce and his band for playing for us this year. It has really helped us. We also want to thank our advisor, Mrs. Stevens, for her assistance and patience.

The goal of the majorettes this year was to twirl their best at the games. We have worked hard to accomplish this.

We have had quite a few projects this year. They have included fudge sales, bottle drives, dances, a Hunter's Supper, and a food sale at Sampson's.

We were very fortunate to have as our instructor Mrs. Betty Gregoire of Dover-Foxcroft, Maine.

We wish to thank our advisor, Mrs. Stevens, for her help and guidance throughout the basketball season.

J.V. Cross Country

Mr. MacDonald (Coach), R. Emery, G. Gordon, M. Munson, G. Worster.

The J.V. Cross Country team, although few in number, worked and trained hard this year. Even though there were only four of them, Raymond, Glen G., Mitchell, and Glen W., kept up their spirits through the season. They are all looking forward to being on Lee Academy's Varsity Cross Country team in future years.

Mr. MacDonald deserves many thanks for the long and devoted hours he has put in coaching these boys.

Lee Academy is in hopes that there will be greater interest in this competitive sport next year and therefore have a larger team.

Ski Team

Starting off the season with a coach who had been on skis only twice was quite an experience for the team. Certainly there must have been many doubts in the minds of the members as to the sanity of such a placement; but after some discussion on the part of the parties, it was generally accepted that each would do his best.

From a great deal of hard work on the part of all the members, a product developed that can only be described as "a team". Not an ordinary team, but one that would live the sport twenty-four hours a day from the beginning of the season to the end.

Some of the accomplishments of this team were to beat such teams as Lincoln, Stearns (Millinocket), PVHS (Howland), Belfast Area High School, Caribou, Greenville, and Upper Kennebec Valley High School (Kingman).

The team traveled to Belfast for the State Class B Regionals and were fortunate in placing in the top three. Trailing Lincoln on the first day of events with the slalom and jumping remaining, the boys showed the desire to win. At the end of the events, LA was in a solid third place.

After a week of hard practice, and with the fine co-operation of the Mt. Jefferson Ski Association which ran the T-bar after hours, the team went to the State Finals at Livermore Falls. We placed sixth in the State.

The team was led to its fine season by such outstanding skiers as Ricky Scribner (Northern Penobscot League Skimaster), Danny Delano (3rd in State Regional jumping, 6th out of 50 in State Final Cross Country), Darryl Delano, Frank Stetson, and Mike Crosby. Added support came from James Wright, Earl Nute, Everett Deschene, Edgar Parent, Glen Bustard, Glen Worster, Glen Gordon, and Tommy Thompson.

For any of you who wish to call this a gentleman's sport, speak softly when you are bringing your sixty foot jump to a conclusion.

The 1966 track team, though lacking in number, showed excellent spirit. During the regular season, we competed in three meets. Almost every man placed once in the meets. The finale of the season was the state meet where we made our best showing. David Emery and Dennis Richards collected 2nd place medals in high jumping and shot-put respectively. With only one senior gone, the team looks forward to a good season in 1967.
